

Lynn von Koch-Liebert is the Deputy Secretary of Housing and Consumer Services at the California Business, Consumer Services and Housing Agency (BCSH). In this role she works closely with BCSH departments that oversee housing, including: Department of Housing and Community Development, California Housing Finance Agency, Department of Real Estate, Department of Fair Employment and Housing, and the Seismic Safety Commission. Before joining BCSH she served in a number of business development executive roles at DynCorp International. Previously she held multiple positions in the United Nations Office for Project Services in Afghanistan, South Sudan and Jerusalem. Lynn earned a masters in international relations from Princeton University, a masters in international security from Cranfield University, and a bachelors in political science and economics from the University of South Dakota.