

Ryan Levy Bio

Ryan has always had a strong passion for technology and entrepreneurship. He graduated with Honor's from the University of Michigan with a concentration in Business and Entrepreneurship. Prior to co-founding chargeFUZE, Ryan worked at LaSalle Mortgage Real Estate Investors on the M&A team. He was critical in the efforts of fundraising and acquisitions, working on over $425m in transactions and while supporting the team in successfully raising over a $400m fund. Since co-founding chargeFUZE, Ryan has spearheaded fundraising efforts, enterprise partnerships, and municipality offerings. Ryan is passionate about delivering value to both chargeFUZE partners and chargeFUZE users day in and day out while working to reduce battery waste, increase public safety by virtue of keeping people plugged in, and enhance municipality offerings and amenities.
